What to Expect from Doggie Daycare

(for you to keep)

Doggie Daycare can be a fun and wonderful experience for your pup! Here are a few things to keep in mind when sending your dog to play.

Benefits of Daycare

- Socialization- Puppies need to learn young how to behave in groups of dogs and to trust new people. They will also learn basic commands from our Techs. Socialization is good for older dogs as well. It can help them stay young and playful for years to come!
- Confidence- Daycare can help even the most reserved dog with his/her confidence. Being with other dogs, they learn behaviors and social cues that us humans can't teach them. It may take some time, but you will see your dog grow into a whole new pooch!
- Anxiety- Instead of staying home alone, worrying, and possibly eating your furniture, daycare provides them with an escape from their anxiety.
- Exercise- Your dog will burn off TONS of energy in daycare! They spend their day frolicking in the play yards, wrestling with their buddies, splashing in the pools, chasing tennis ball, popping bubbles and playing tug of war with each other. We also offer plenty of comfortable resting spots for when they're ready to relax.

What to Expect AFTER Daycare

- Increased Appetite/Thirst- With extra activity, it's normal for dogs to be more hungry or thirsty than normal. We have water available at all times inside and out; however, when they're busy having fun, they don't always stop to drink as much as they should. We also offer lunch while they are here, if requested. If we do not carry what he/she eats, you may bring a labelled Ziplock baggie.
- Sore Paws- The surface of our daycare areas include grass, pea gravel, concrete, rubber mulch and mats. It is common for the dogs to experience tender feet. They often don't show signs until they are home because they're having fun. To help relieve them, soak their paws in Epsom Salt and rub Bag Balm on them.
- Boo-Boos- Dogs play with their claws and teeth. The more active of a player your dog is, the more likely they are to come home with marks or scratches. Our groups are always supervised and we do our best to keep the dogs safe and scratch free, but sometimes it happens. If we notice any marks on your dog, we will let you know.
- Cooties- Daycare for dogs is really no different than daycare for children. Every child catches a cold at some point. Unfortunately, dogs cannot tell us when they don't feel well. We may not know they are "sick" until they show physical signs such as sneezing, coughing, or diarrhea. We do everything in our power to prevent illnesses in our facility but nothing is fool proof. If we notice anything at all, we will let you know. If you notice that your dog is not feeling well, please keep them home to prevent spreading any illness.
